

Gábor GÁL

Member of the Competition Council of the GVH

Gábor Gál is a competition lawyer with extensive experience in the field of competition policy and enforcement. He currently serves as member of the Hungarian Competition Council, the decision-making body of the Hungarian Competition authority.

Gábor obtained his bachelor's degree at the Department of Law of ELTE (Budapest) in 1998. He also holds an LL.M. degree from the University College of London in international business law.

After graduation he worked for several Hungarian and international law firms before joining the European Commission in 2006. From 2006 he worked for Directorate General CNECT (networks and telecommunications) and DG COMPETITION as case handler and policy expert. During the years spent at the European Commission, he mainly dealt with competition issues in telecommunications, financial services and e-commerce.

Since 2018 he is a member of the Hungarian Competition Council, mainly dealing with antitrust and merger cases, but also consumer protection issues.

He is a lecturer on competition law compliance in the Corporate Compliance Programme at the University of Miskolc (Hungary). He published numerous articles and co-authored books about EU and Hungarian competition law.
