

Marco BOTTA

Professor, European University Institute

Marco Botta is a Professor at the European University Institute in Florence (Italy), where he is the Scientific Coordinator of the Centre for a Digital Society.

In addition, he is a Lecturer at the Law Faculty University of Vienna and a Visiting Professor at the Central European University in Vienna (Austria).

He has extensive teaching experience in the fields of EU, competition, State aid, and IP law. In the past, he was a Senior Research Fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition (MPI) in Munich (Germany).

In terms of education, he holds an LLM in European Business Law from Leiden University (the Netherlands) and a PhD in Law from the European University Institute.

Marco's current research interest focuses on the intersection of competition policy and sector regulation in the digital economy.